About us

Our formula for success is simple: offer the best in-depth local coverage and analysis, charge very low rates for ads and give the paper away for free.

Warren County Report began in August 2006. It is by far the most read newspaper in the county with a circulation of approximately 9,000. WCR publishes every other Friday for an eager readership of about 20,000, almost all of whom are in Warren County. WCR is famous for its in-depth coverage of politics and all things Warren. Our content has been seen around the world.

The Sherando Times began in August 2009 at the request of our advertisers and friends who longed for a newspaper that would offer hyper-local coverage of the southern Frederick County areas of Stephens City, Middletown and Kernstown, VA. Despite its relative youth and strong competition from two big regional dailies, it is already the second most-read paper in Frederick County. The Sherando Times publishes each Wednesday with a circulation of 4,000 and growing.
